

WOOD IS ACQUITTED IN DYNAMITE CASE

Jury Disagrees as to Attenuation.

While Collins Is Guilty
on Two Counts.

BRIEBRY CHARGE INQUIRY

Judge Creates a Precedent by Ordering Open Hearing of Matter.

BOSTON, June 7.—After deliberating for eighteen hours the jury which heard the dynamite conspiracy case acquitted this morning President M. Wood of the American Woollen Company, reported a disagreement as to the charge of bribery against him, and found Dennis J. Collins, a Cambridge dog fancier, guilty on two of the six counts in the indictment. Collins confessed on the witness stand that he carried the explosive to Lawrence and aided John J. Breen to "plant" it in the places where it was discovered by the police on January 20, 1912. He said he did not know what the stuff was.

At the request of Attorney Henry F. Huriburt, counsel for President Wood, Judge Crosby has ordered a public hearing to begin next Wednesday in the court house to investigate the alleged attempt on the part of some person to bribe Morris Shuman, a juror in the case. This action creates a precedent. All the jurors and lawyers were ordered by Judge Crosby to be present at the investigation.

The court in passing upon the request said that he did not believe Mr. Huriburt or any one connected with his office was implicated in the attempt to bribe the juror. District Attorney Pelletier also said that he did not think Mr. Huriburt or any one in his office was in any way connected with the affair. Juror Shuman reported to the District Attorney yesterday that a man had approached him the previous night and told him that if he "voted right" he would be able to get a life job with the American Woollen Company and $300.

After Clerk Campbell had discharged President Wood Attorney Huriburt arose and said:

"I am an officer of this court, and while no names were mentioned in the charge, I know that my office is meant when it is said that 'some one is said to have come from an attorney's office.' An attorney who would do such a thing as is suggested is done in this case is unfit to be a member of the bar and he should be expelled by this court at once."

President Wood, who sat on the front bench, applauded.

Mr. Pelletier said that he thought it proper that the Grand Jury would meet on Monday to make a special investigation of this matter.

Mr. Huriburt said: "Let us have a public hearing to see whether or not a juror was approached and to see if any one from any attorney's office was implicated directly or indirectly."

Mr. Pelletier replied: "Unfortunately the Grand Jury cannot have a public hearing. I will have the Grand Jury investigate and I propose to go to the bottom of this affair. I don't believe that Brother Huriburt had anything to do with this matter, and I am glad of an opportunity to say so publicly."

Judge Crosby named Wednesday as the day for the investigation to take place in open court after Mr. Pelletier had said a hearing on Monday would not give him enough time to investigate fully.

When the jurors were discharged Juror Shuman was taken to the Grand Jury room and he remained for some time with the District Attorney.

The jury room occupied so much attention that the jurors were discharged, and court adjourned without anything being said or done by the District Attorney about the bail of Collins or Attorney Pelletier told Attorneys that the bail was all right as it was.

After his acquittal Mr. Wood gave out the following statement:

"I am profoundly grateful for the verdict. I had no reason at any time to assume that the verdict would be otherwise. I was not conscious of any guilt in connection with the alleged conspiracy because I was in no way implicated in it nor did I have any knowledge of it. I was given a fair trial and I have no fault to find with the conduct of the case by the District Attorney. I have no bitterness toward any one that has been connected with the prosecution."

FLAG FOR EACH INDIAN TRIBE.

Rodman Wanamaker Expedition
Starts on 22,000 Mile Trip.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Beginning a 22,000 mile journey to all the Indian reservations of the United States and carrying 169 American flags to be presented to 169 separate Indian tribes the members of the Rodman Wanamaker Expedition of Citizenship to the North American Indian left today on a private car. Their journey will end on December 5.

This expedition, undertaken under authority of the President of the United States, will give the Indians an opportunity to participate in ceremonies incident to the erection of a national monument to the Indian at Fort Wadsworth, New York harbor. Rodman Wanamaker in his message to the tribes said:

"As you lift the flag of your country in faithful homage to your Almighty Maker and to the country that shields you I ask that you repeat together, in your own tongue, these words:

"Under the blessing of God, who has made the red man and the white man one and alike in heart, and under the great dome of blue, where the white man looks for his heaven and the red man looks for his happy hunting ground, we are assembled in solemn council to attest anew, in common brotherhood, our love for the great mystery, for man and for our country."

BECKER SUIT ON TO-MORROW.

Wife of Negro Killed in Raid Asks
$25,000 Damages.

The $25,000 suit of Mrs. Mary B. Carter against ex-Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, now in Sing Sing, and Charles B. Platt, Jr., who assisted Becker in his "strong arm squad" raids, for the death of the plaintiff's husband, Walter Carter, a negro killed in a Becker raid in Harlem, will go to trial before Supreme Court Justice JM Dan to-morrow.

Although Becker is not permitted to leave the death house to appear in a civil action the attaches of the court expect the trial to attract a throng of curious persons and made arrangements yesterday to shut out those who have no business in court.

JUST A FAIR, AVERAGE WIFE.

But the Correspondent is Moved to Consider Her Charms.

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 7.—Oliver C. Sigworth, one of the Venango county's best known farmers and a correspondent for forty years, wrote his own wedding notice the other day and sent it to the newspapers. It was his second marriage, his first wife having died seven years ago. His bride was Mrs. Emma J. Ludwig, who got her degree in divorce an hour before she applied for the marriage license. Mr. Sigworth writes as follows:

"The bride is as fine as silk and is a good cook, though as to this the groom reserves the right to amend his petition later. She is fat, fair and 40, weighs 170 dressed and has lived all her life in Oil City, where she is a member of the Evangelical Church, but I cannot say much as to her standing. The truth of the matter is she never took me to church with her, due probably to the fact that she was ashamed of me. I am not aware that she has ever figured much in social events and she is not a member of the Four Hundred. Nor do the records show that she was ever arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct."

"She is just a plain average woman who always tried to make home the pleasantest place in the world for her family and friends. She has a nice home in Oil City, and her friends think she is foolish for going out on a farm, where she will probably have to chop wood. Wisely, however, she leaves her home furnished and the shopping done and the feeding the calves becomes too strenuous she can return to her home."

HENRY ST. TELLS ITS HISTORY IN PAGEANT

Twentieth Anniversary of the Founding of the Settlement

ment House.

Henry street has learned that there was a time when it was far other than a tenement enclosed, all too narrow street peopled with Russian refugees. To its complete surprise it learned that somewhere about 1875 Dutch vrowns and bunnies used to go to a strawberry picking on its flower dotted downs.

Henry street came to the knowledge of this and many other facts of its history because 500 school children and grownups enacted a pageant last night representing the social life of the street from the time of the Indian settlers down to the present.

The pageant was by way of a celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Settlement House at 265 Henry street. Miss Lillian Wald, the founder of the house, was the originator and director.

The six episodes enacted showed the Indians' welcome to the white men, which was attended with characteristic Indian songs and dances; the deportments of the Dutch through the berry fields, which were interrupted by the appearance of the post speeding toward Boston; a Maypole party of Colonial days; the old fashioned games played by Quaker children who went to the Friends' School which Dr. Witt Clinton helped to establish in Henry street in 1806; the polkas and quadrilles danced by hoopskirted women and young men with stocks in 1860; and finally a parade of all the nationalities which has inhabited Henry street from the beginning, Irish, Scotch, German, Italian and Russian, with characteristic dancing by each group.

By permission of the Street Department Henry street was roped off for several blocks in front of the settlement house and was illuminated with thousands of electric lights, the power for which was furnished free by the Edison people.

Miss Wald was assisted by Mrs. Henry M. Morgenthau, Jr., Miss Irene Lewisohn, Miss Ethel Frankau, Miss Clark, Miss Margaret Brown and Frank Hazenpflug and Howard Bradstreet.

Among the guest guests of the settlement who watched the pageant from a huge grand stand in front of the house were Borough President McAneny, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schiff, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Warburg, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hapgood, Charles R. Crane of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Macy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arnsperg, Park Commissioner Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Seligman, Miss Fola La Follette, Street Cleaning Commissioner Edwards, Comptroller Frederick and Mr. Innes of the British Embassy at Washington.

Miss Wald entertained at dinner all those who have helped her financially and otherwise in her work during the last twenty years. The dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Schiff, Mr. and Mrs. Warburg, Mr. and Mrs. Macy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arnsperg, Mr. and Mrs. Ochs and President McAneny.

CROPS OF TEN STATES SUFFERING FOR RAIN

Promising Estimates of a Few Weeks Back Toned Down
by Drought.

ILLINOIS CORN STRUGGLING

Oklahoma in Fair Shape; Also Arkansas and Parts of Missouri.

St. Louis, June 7.—Crop reports from ten central States show a general need of rain. Several points threaten great loss unless moisture quickly appears. Millions in damage is being done to growing grain and fruits by the drought which has spread over ten States in the South and middle West. Missouri crops are badly in need of rain with the exception of a few sections. The northwestern part of the State is suffering less than any other because of heavy rain in May. The wheat there will be ready for harvest soon.

Kansas reports a drop of 4,000,000 bushels in estimates of the wheat crop, which a few weeks ago promised to be the largest in the history of the State. Illinois corn is suffering for moisture and the stand in many sections is poor. Indiana grain suffered from the floods and the crop of oats is virtually a failure. Wheat is dried up and the yield will be small.

The wheat harvest in Oklahoma has begun and heavy rains have relieved conditions. Kentucky and Tennessee report excellent conditions and large crops of cotton, corn and tobacco are expected. Drought and chinch bugs are damaging the wheat and oats in northern and western counties, but the losses there are more than made up elsewhere.

Conditions are good in Arkansas and farmers are predicting big crops of corn and cotton. The cotton acreage is larger than last year and the boll weevil has done little damage.

Wheat and oat harvests are in full swing in Texas, where cotton is in good condition. The quality of oats is better than for several years.

The eastern part of Nebraska reports flourishing crops, while the western part is badly in need of rain. Southern Iowa crops are promising.

Missouri crop conditions are somewhat less favorable than a month ago, when they were unusually good. The average temperature for the month was 66, rain fell 1.43 inches, as compared with 3.25 inches for May, 1912, and 3.45 below normal.

The drought which is general over Illinois is certain to damage the corn crop unless relief comes at once. While the situation is bad it is not beyond remedy, provided rains come at once and are heavy enough.

"Unless we get good rains within a few days the corn crop will be greatly damaged by the drought," said Prof. J. G. Mosler of the department of soil physics, University of Illinois. "Oats, timothy and young clover have already been damaged by the dry spell."

EXECUTOR CALLED TO ACCOUNT.

E. A. McQuade Made Improper Payments From Grandfather's Estate.

By a decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday, Edward A. McQuade, clerk of the Harlem Municipal Court, now under suspension, must account to the estate of his grandfather, John McQuade, a Harlem contractor, who was once a Police Magistrate, for a shortage of $21,376 in the funds of the estate. The Appellate Division approved the report of Michael J. Egan, who was appointed referee to take McQuade's accounting as executor.

The court found that between 1905 and 1910, when McQuade was relieved as executor, he made improper payments aggregating $61,000, although the principal of the estate was only $85,000. The bulk of this sum he paid to his brother, John J. McQuade.

Edward A. McQuade is under charges of misappropriating funds of the Harlem court.
